6. Safeguarding Principles

6.1 Personal Responsibility

Every person under this policy holds a responsibility for:

- Remaining alert and aware of possible safeguarding risks
- Guarding the vulnerable against harmful events or environments
- Taking positive steps to maintain the safety and wellbeing of persons engaged with the Trust, its members, or volunteers

6.2 Responding to Safeguarding concern

- Where any vulnerable person is at immediate risk of serious harm any adult should call 999. Thereafter, that person should report the matter to the Chairman of the Trustees or if not available any other Trustee.

- Where there is no immediate risk of serious harm the adult who has heard or witnessed this concern should consult with any available Trustee as soon as practical and no later than the same day.
- Where any child, young person or vulnerable adult makes a disclosure relating to harm or abuse to an adult it is important to
 - Listen calmly and carefully showing that their views are taken seriously
 - Provide an appropriate and honest level of reassurance
 - Avoid making false promises of confidentiality
 - Avoid asking questions but try to have a dialogue with the person/child concerned, if questions need to be asked avoid questions which might suggest an answer (leading questions) such as “Did they do x”, “Was it [name]” but ask open ended questions such as “How did it happen”, etc
 - Make a confidential written record of the discussion during the discussion or as soon as possible afterwards.
 - Refer all relevant information to a Trustee as soon as practicable.

6.3 Reporting

- Where any person has a concern regarding the conduct of any person connected with the Trust which may pose a safeguarding risk such as
 - Harming a child or any vulnerable person physically or emotionally
 - Exposing them to behaviour which may cause harm
 - Engaging in criminal activity concerning a child or vulnerable person
- this should be raised with a Trustee so that the appropriate steps may be taken

6.4 Actions following Safeguarding Referral

- Following referral to a Trustee, the Trustee should report the matter to the Chairman of the Trust who will after obtaining appropriate advice either
 - Undertake initial enquiries
 - Refer the matter to the Local Authorities Children’s Services department for assessment and/or the police for investigation
 - Instigate any appropriate investigation processes and suspension of any person from involvement with the Trust
 - Refer the matter to the Disclosure and Barring Service and/or any other relevant authority
- Any person within the Trust who has allegations made against them shall be properly informed in a formal meeting of the particulars of the allegations and the next steps which will be taken. The meeting shall be held as soon as possible subject to any approval of the police or local authority and will be with such Trustee or such suitably qualified person as the Trust may appoint.
- Any person from within the Trust who has allegations made against them shall be treated fairly and in accordance with the rules of natural justice.
- All enquiries, investigations and decisions taken shall be fairly and properly undertaken with the safety of the vulnerable person at the heart of the process.
- Any person who makes an allegation against a person acting for or on behalf of the Trust shall be listened to, taken seriously and shall be treated fairly throughout the whole process of enquiries, investigations and decision making.

7. Safeguarding at events

The Trust does not as a matter of course provide services to adults or children. Safeguarding issues will therefore only arise when we organise an event at which children or vulnerable adults are present on its land or elsewhere or could attend such an event. Such events are rare and the Trust seeks to mitigate any risk that safeguarding may be overlooked or not fully considered.

- In such cases the Trustee or member of the Management Committee organising the event shall have primary responsibility for the safety and appropriateness of the event. They may however delegate some of the responsibilities.
- All Trustees, members, volunteers and others involved in the event shall play an active role in ensuring the safety of children young persons and vulnerable adults.
- For certain events further specific guidance may be issued and provided to those organising or involved in the event.
- Risk assessments for events which will or could include children, young persons or vulnerable adults will take account of additional specific risks which may reasonably be anticipated.
- Those organising events will be aware of the Trusts First Aid procedures.

8. Managing Risks

8.1 Although the Trust does not routinely organise events for children there may be circumstances when children are not under the control of their parent or other responsible adult at an event organised by the Trust. In such cases the organiser of the event will in cases of challenging or inappropriate behaviour from a child

- If the behaviour involves the immediate serious physical harm to the child intervene to mitigate the harm/any injury
- Seek to establish whether the child has a parent or responsible adult present
- If a parent or responsible adult is present advise the parent or responsible adult of the situation and pass responsibility for managing the child to that person.
- Treat each child fairly and equally
- Approach and seek to resolve the situation in a calm non-judgemental manner
- Only ever use physical restraint or intervention in order to protect the immediate physical safety of a person
- Where physical intervention is justified the amount of force used should be the absolute minimum taking due account of the risk posed.
- Make a written record of the incident and passing this to the Chairman of Trustees

8.2 The risks to children, and other vulnerable persons may come from the behaviour of other children or vulnerable persons. This may take the form of bullying and those managing events should be alert to this possibility.

- In cases of bullying where the child or vulnerable person perpetrating the bullying does not have a parent or responsible adult present or the bullying continues the organiser of the event will, if possible and safe to do so, intervene to separate the parties.
- In cases of physical bullying the priority will be to secure the safety of the victim

9. Photography at events

As events are not routinely organised for children and the Trust's land is open to all, parents and those responsible for children should be aware that photographs are likely to be taken which may include images of children. The Trust acknowledges that photography of children carries risks that the images may be shared or altered and this may have an impact on the child now or in the future. The Trust will therefore

- Ensure that neither it nor its Trustees will hold share alter or publish any photograph which wholly or in part includes an image of a child which may reasonably be identified without the written consent of the parent or responsible adult
- Store photos in accordance with our data protection policy.

10. Open access.

10.1 The Trust provides open access to the Goat Walk Land by Topsham residents and visitors from elsewhere. Parents and those responsible for children, young persons and vulnerable adults should be aware that access to the land is not managed, supervised, controlled or restricted by the Trust (other than for the undertaking of works) including during events organised by the Trust. Open access by visitors may therefore include the taking of photographs.

10.2 The Trust cannot ensure that other people visiting the land are subject to this policy.
